

Stay on Green KS1

Each day begins with you on green. You should aim to stay on green the whole day.

- An adult will give you one verbal warning with an opportunity to do the right thing – a second warning is a blue card which replaces your green card.
- If the behaviour is not changed, you will receive a yellow card and time-out in the class. (All classes have a quiet time-out table/area). This is time for you to reflect and should be 5 minutes (no more than 10 minutes).
- If there is no improvement in your behaviour you will get a red card. The class teacher or LSA will record the incident on your pupil record and you will have to attend detention at playtime the following day.
- Any child who disrupts the learning of other children will be immediately removed and sent to either the head or deputy head teacher with work to do.
- If you go on yellow three times during a week, you will automatically have a red card on the third count.
- Detention is for 15 minutes. Detention will normally be taken by a named member of staff and you will be sent to him/her at lunchtime.
- Your parents or carers will be informed verbally at the end of the day or via a standard letter.
- Further detentions during a half term could warrant a meeting with the Headteacher.
- A pastoral support plan/CAF may be drawn up with your parents and external agencies will be involved if you are considered as being at risk of having a fixed term exclusion.
- Stay on Green cards go home every half-term for your parents/carers to view.
- Children who Stay on Green for the half-term will receive house points.
- Certificates are awarded for a half term, whole term or academic year as applicable.
- Children who Stay on Green will be awarded with an extra playtime, certificates and in some instances a special mention.
- Stay on Green records will be looked at when appointing prefects.
